

MoMA PS1

NY ART BOOK FAIR 2013

from September 19th to September 22nd, 2013

Andrea Bianconi
Title: Fable
Edited by cura.books

Dimension (Width x Height): 120 x 170 mm
Black and White
Pages: 96
ISBN: 978-88-97889-32-8
Published in September 2013
In collaboration with:
Furini Arte Contemporanea, Rome
Barbara Davis Gallery, Houston, TX

Fable, 2013, book

One year after the publication of Romance, a book that depicts the monologue drawn through the construction / deconstruction of the human being in the evolution of the stream of consciousness, Andrea Bianconi presents Fable: visual text which develops the previous premises deepening the psychic-segment synaptic that allows a transition from one thought to another.

On the crest of the imagination, between the “relations of relations” would say Bruno Munari “thought thinks, sees the imagination,” Andrea Bianconi continued his reflection with flights of fancy that always return the point on the human condition as a unit lexical and real of the whole matter ... the artist says “I would like to write a book but there is the reality.”

(Excerpt from the text by Alice Zannoni)

website:

<http://nyartbookfair.com/>

Special Thanks go to SEA which generously has supported the artist's book.

